DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 40-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yao et al ('089).

In reference to claim 40, Yao claims a method comprising:

forming an oxide isolation grid between silicon structures (Fig.7 (95, 97, 98), at least a portion of the grid (98) surrounding the lateral edges of at least one of the structures , wherein an upper portion of the one of the structures is bare (94) (Fig.7); forming conductive material within the oxide isolation grid to form a conductive grid therein (Fig.8 (87,82, 99), and removing selected portions of the conductive material grid to define interconnect lines within the oxide isolation grid(Col.7, lines: 60-68).

Art Unit: 2813

In reference to claim 41, Yao teaches the method of claim 40 of forming conductive lines of claim 40, wherein forming an oxide isolation grid comprises forming individual oxide isolation regions over a silicon substrate by trench and refill technique. (Fig.7 (97)).

In reference to claim 42, Yao teaches the method of forming conductive lines of claim 40, wherein forming an oxide isolation grid comprises:
the silicon structures comprise silicon-containing islands (94) over an insulative surface (95), and forming oxide isolation grid comprises forming oxide isolation regions between silicon-containing islands (Fig.7 (97)).

In reference to claim 43, Yao claims wherein forming the conductive grid within the oxide isolation grid comprises:

Etching into the oxide isolation grid to define a network of outwardly-exposed trenches running within the oxide isolation grid (Col.7, lines: 60-68);

Forming conductive material within and over the outwardly-exposed trenches to a degree sufficient to completely fill the trenches (Col.7, lines: 60-68); and Planarizing the conductive material to isolate conductive material within the trenches and to define the conductive grid (Col.7, lines: 60-65).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 10/26/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the Yao fails to teach that a portion of the grid surrounds that lateral edges of one of the silicon structures, however this is not persuasive. Yao teaches this newly added limitation as cited above.
